EDITORIAL MISSION:

“ Helping and saving animals is my passion. Riding horses keeps me sane. Travel inspires me. Working out makes me happy. And yes, I absolutely thrive on a 50 plus hour work week. How can we make choices each day that are animal and eco friendly? How do we stay fit, eat vegan and still enjoy ourselves on vacation? How do we afford designer items on a budget sans animal products whenever possible? How can we find ways to help clean up our environment and get our friends involved? In creating The Blonde Animal Ambassador, I am doing my best to discover simple solutions we can all use and learn from each and every day. Do I have all the answers? NO. Is there more I can do each and every day to meet my own animal friendly goals? ABSOLUTELY. I am trying!...Not to sound cheesy BUT...All of us are on an incredible journey called life...why not live it compassionately with respect for all creatures and this beautiful home we call planet earth? ”

MARKETING OPPORTUNITIES

I do participate in product reviews, contests, giveaways, creative collaborations, discount codes, and brand ambassador work. Because my blogging is an integral part of my site, I will not sell text-based links or link exchanges placed within my copy. I am available for personal appearances at your business, and will use Twitter, Facebook, and all my networks to promote you as well!!

I am happy to discuss guest posts on a case by case basis. Feel free to contact me directly.
